

PRESIDENT'S SECRETARIAT (PUBLIC)
PRESS WING

(PR No. 192/2018)

ISLAMABAD; DECEMBER 18, 2018: President Dr. Arif Alvi has said that the civil services training institutes must ensure that the quality of training which they impart to the officers matches the requirements of modern era with special emphasize on increasing their capacity of service delivery to the people of Pakistan. He was chairing the meeting of Board of Governors of National School of Public Policy here this morning.

The Rector, National School of Public Policy Mr. Azmat Ali Ranjha presented a report on the implementation of the decisions taken during the last meeting. He also apprised the Board about the steps being taken to improve upon the existing training manuals, qualification and requirements of the faculty in addition to welfare of general employees of the school. The President remarked that NSPP should study and benefit from the best practices in training being utilized by similar National and International institutions. He also said that it should consider reducing the duration of different courses being offered to the officers in order to give opportunity of learning and training to maximum number of officers. The President also underlined the need to induct more researchers and academicians compared to civil servants. At the same time, he said, the policy of austerity must be strictly followed in expenditure.

The Board reviewed the implementation status of the decisions taken during the previous meeting. The President instructed that the Board should meet more frequently to dispose of the agenda well in time.
